Message:

The Senate District map should be drawn in a balanced manner so that citizens of Texas are adequately represented. It dilutes the representation of citizens when the number of constituents are not equal. It doesn't benefit us when one district represents 1000 constituents and the adjacent district represents 700 constituents and they have the same voting power. Either we balance out the districts so that the constituencies are equal or we draw additional districts to be able to achieve the equality in numbers.
