Committee Members:

Thank you for allowing written comments concerning redistricting of Texas. In a democracy people have the basic right of representation. The draft map proposal makes a mockery of fair government. The map does not reflect the diversity of Texas. I am a privileged white woman and my current white male representatives do not reflect my beliefs about responsible government. I value the different ethnic groups in our state. Including people that are different from me teaches me how to become a better citizen. Our state is made up of people of color with life experience and cultures that benefit all of us. I urge you to draw a district map to ensure that people of color are represented in our state. We need their leadership to bring Texas back to a place of integrity and unity.

Respectfully submitted,
Jean Robinson
