Message:

Regarding SB 375: Although I personally did not have a change to who my senator is, I remain concerned for others whose districts were not fairly drawn in 2021. It is critical that electoral district maps not divide communities of interest and subsequently undermine public opinion and cohesion within neighborhoods and/or school districts. When this happens, as it did for many districts in 2021, it destroys our faith in government and elected officials. Conversely, fair redistricting renews our faith in government. Do not fear your constituents, but listen to their concerns and search for common ground, productive solutions -- we will all be better for it in the long run! Texans deserve an independent, transparent redistricting process; in return we will build a more cohesive, less divided Texas. Thank you.
