Redistricting should be non-political. It should be done by a bipartisan or nonpartisan group. Districts should be logical and reasonably travelled by the Senators. They should have a similar makeup, rather than covering portions of multiple cities and the rural areas in between them.