Message:

Why are we continuing to deny that the policy of partisan gerrymandering is wrong. It matters not what political party is in charge, it is still wrong. Can we not do the right thing and let all Texans have an opportunity to have a say by initiating an independent commission using available technology for redistricting? By restricting diverse voices you become little more than the type of government you are supposedly against. We must stop this regression of thinking and actually become what we call ourselves: citizens of the Great State of Texas. Partisan gerrymandering and the use of dark money in campaigning should be a thing of the past. Our elected officials should be leading this charge not standing in it's way.
