To who it may pertain,

I'm writing in response to the proposed redistricting proposal, which is properly due to the population growth, and to properly represent the number of people in the area properly. I do not believe the current proposal is appropriate, as it will split my current neighborhood into multiple zones, one of which will be largely represented by a rural area. This is not representative of the people who live here, and will unfairly burden the people in that zone with representatives which will likely favor more rural representation over the urban area we live in.

I understand politics, but this is blatant misrepresentation, and I do not agree with the politicized agenda that has taken over this process.

I implore the representatives to properly align borders for redistricting, so the full areas that will be represented are similar in nature, or at least not blatantly politically motivated.
