Message:

I am very upset about the new super-gerrymandered districts the Texas Republican legislators are drawing. I am currently in Texas Senate District 16 and have been informed my existing district will be gerrymandered to include all of Wise County and the western rural half of Denton county instead for the rest of northern Dallas County where I reside. I do not share the same concerns that the residents of these sections of Denton and Wise county share, and it's obvious that you are just trying to draw these new districts to help republicans keep a super majority of the districts while barely having a majority of the state's voters.
