Message:

The Senate's proposed map for Congress has been available for a few hours but it is easy to tell it is abysmal for South Texas. It still divides South Texas into four districts with with each jumping up to being parallel to San Antonio or even farther north. That is crazy. This is not hard: draw 3 South Texas districts. One based on Corpus Christi, one with Brownsville and part of Hidalgo County, and one with Laredo and part of Hidalgo County. Add nearby smaller counties to comply with one person one vote as necessary. The Senate committee obviously ignored the hundreds of witnesses that testified before it. This map makes it clear that the hearings held by the Senate were "all for show" for litigation purposes and the result was pretty much 'cooked in advance.'" Shameful. Shameful.
