Message:

To members of congress and lawmakers who are considering redistricting in order to "represent" our communities better, consider visiting these communities and acknowledging our needs instead of trying to manipulate district voter outcome as this will damage the democratic process overall. I firmly oppose these efforts as it is a form of silencing voters. El Paso being a blue city with a majority of a Hispanic community is not going to benefit being redistricted. This is all a power move in order to favor a party over another, while still our needs and demands are not being nearly. Texas is a diverse state and that needs to be reflected within our votes. Representation means all of us, not just those who are in power.
