Message:

Hello, I am writing to the committee to voice my concern about redistricting in Texas. Over the past couple of years, Texans (especially those in urban areas), have been significantly underrepresented in legislature due to the heavy gerrymandering of Texas' congressional districts. I urge the committee to not gerrymander the congressional districts in sole favor of Republican agendas. It is only fair to have equal and just representation of the ever so growing population of Texas. Further gerrymandering of congressional districts in favor of Republicans to suppress the actual political climate in Texas makes the state look submissive to a loyalist regime that does not have the best interest of their constituents at heart.

Texas is such a beautiful place to grow and learn. It's crucial to the development of the state to have equal and just representation. Let's not reverse the progress that has been made. Act in the best interest of the general public rather than being loyal to entities that only think about themselves.

I appreciate your understanding.
