Message:

To redraw voting districts to further manipulate election outcomes in an already gerrymandered electoral map shows that you know that you do not represent nor do you want to represent the will of the people you're supposed to. I don't know if you've ever believed in what is right and just and lawful, but if you can harken back to when you actually had principles, please don't further erode our democracy. I would welcome a new electoral map if you would actually redraw boundaries fairly and by a nonpartisan system that actually served all the people.
