Message:

As a Republican, I believe in fair elections and the integrity of our democratic process. That's why I find the blatant gerrymandering efforts in Texas deeply disturbing. Redrawing districts to lock in power, rather than represent the people, goes against the very principles this country was built on. Texas holds enormous political weight, rigging its maps doesn't just affect one party or one state, it accelerates the erosion of democracy across the nation. We should be winning hearts and minds, not manipulating lines on a map.
