To whom it may concern.

The matter in which redistricting (again) and that it must have a conservative direction is unethical in every approach. When you ignore the needs of any minority or group of people it should be punishable. As I carry my own views I wouldn't impose them on anyone else unless engaged in a respectful conversation.

I would also like to add that you clearly do not care about your citizens in re-districting because of how drastically the school districts changed in the last change.

WTF, try giving a fuck.

Unhappy Citizen
