Message:

As a native Houstonian and Texan, I do not agree with and strongly oppose any redistricting in and around my city, as well as anywhere else in Texas that may favor the Republican party. As citizens of our state, we get the chance to vote for representatives that most share our ideals and values. That's the point of a Representative. Representatives don't get to have the right to change district lines to benefit them or their party. The whole point is that we the people have someone who gets to voice our values, wants, needs, and morals. If that representative doesn't fit the same viewpoint as who we voted for, they must leave office without changing district lines. I refuse to be part of more gerrymandering when census results should be what constitutes redrawing district lines. Residents of this state will not stand for such blatant power hungry moves. This is vile, disgusting, and wholly un-American.
