The latest redrawing doesn't reflect the results of the 2020 census but shows efforts to gerrymander. That it is drawn along racial lines is unprecedented. What has Texas so shaken that they fear fair maps? Some of the greatest changes seem to center on Tarrant County. Why? Who is the author of this new map? Court records show the use of race in the latest rendering. Is that the new metric? Today's voters are disenfranchised for political currency. We are familiar with the chicanery but not impressed. This is a recipe for disaster. Was that the intended purpose?
