Message:

I am writing to you as a concerned citizen and constituent to urge you to take a stand against the ongoing redistricting efforts in Texas that threaten the foundations of fair representation and democracy.

The proposed redistricting maps disproportionately dilute the voting power of communities of color, undermine the principle of “one person, one vote,” and appear to be politically motivated rather than guided by the interests of Texas residents. These actions could result in significant long-term harm to the trust Texans place in our electoral system.

As you know, fair redistricting should reflect the true diversity and demographics of our state. Any map that favors political power over equitable representation weakens public confidence and undermines the rights of voters, especially those in historically marginalized communities.

I respectfully urge you to advocate for:

Transparency and public input in the redistricting process

Independent and nonpartisan map-making efforts

Protection of voting rights for all Texans, regardless of race or political affiliation

We must prioritize fair and democratic representation. I hope you will take a principled stand and oppose any redistricting measures that fail to meet these basic standards.

Thank you for your time and commitment to serving the people of Texas.
