Message:

This is not a census year. You should not be redistricting any areas at this time. It is also very suspect that this was added to the special session agenda after President Trump asked for it. You are supposed to represent all the people not just the billionaires or the ones that share your beliefs. If you are worried that Texas is going to flip blue then you should stop and think about why your constituents are voting AGAINST you. You have lost sight of what the people of Texas actually want for our state. If your reason for redistricting is to "pick up" more Republican seats and not to ensure fair and balanced elections that actually represent the people, you are basically trying to cheat so you can win by silencing the voices that disagree with you. To make myself very clear, DO NOT VOTE ON REDISTRICTING.
