Message:

I'm confused as to why the lege is focused at all on redistricting. Either we were lied to in the last years when told that there was no racial bias in the last redistricting work or our TEXAS STATE government have become pawns in a political power grab game happening at the FEDERAL level. Which is it? Dropping redistricting and focusing on challenges in TEXAS such as the July 4th floods, families without access to food or health services would align with true Texan values. Please get back to focusing on real issues!
