This attempt to redistrict ahead of the 2026 primary is disgusting and should not be allowed to happen. The founding fathers did not envision a democracy where politicians pick their voters. While I understand that gerrymandering has been around since 1812, and I have always found it to be a disgusting political tool in our system, doing it between censuses is just appalling. I pray that the courts find this unconstitutional if the state legislature pushes down our throats. For the sake of the republic, please reconsider this decision. Over the last decade, we have eroded our governmental systems to a severally dangerous level. This short sighted approach for a political advantage is not just irresponsible, it opens the door for future legislatures to do the same. Texas could set a precedent that all the other 49 states take and in doing so, could destroy the integrity of all elections in our country. We are better than this. Republican policies should be winning seats and if our heavily controlled GOP state legislature is so scared of losing seats that we need to gerrymander the midterm in this way, then it clearly shows that GOP policy is not good and should be looked at.

Lastly, Id just point out that if Biden had directed a democratic governor to redraw lines ahead of 2022 midterms, the GOP would have lost their minds.

BE BETTER!
