Message:

Convening a special congressional session with the objective of redistricting areas of the state prior to receiving any census data is not only inaccurate, but it shows a failure on the part of the Texas Governor to prioritize the issues that matter to the public. This is a failure of public institutions created for the people of Texas, as it misrepresents Texas citizens.

Texans want their elected officials to focus on what matters, represent the people accordingly, and do their jobs to address issues in a bipartisan and productive manner. This effort to abuse our state's institutions in order to appease and capitulate is not only weak and embarrassing, but it's simply un-Texan.
