Regarding: Congressional

Message:

Im deeply disheartened by the republicans redrawing congressional districts to cheat constituents out of fair and honest representation within their home districts. If you have to redraw districts to remain in power, then lets call it what it is, cheating, plain and simple. If you cant win on the merits of your ideals and representation, then your ideas are utterly awful and useless. This nonsense should be illegal. I hope other Democratic states counter ours by gerrymandering their districts and this is all for not, and all the republican politicians in charge of this gerrymandering are remembered for their ill wills towards the general population and run out of office for good. Enough is enough
