Message:

I oppose redistricting. This is a political move and not in the best interest of Texan voters. It has nothing to do with shifting population, it is gerrymandering. Politicians should not be picking the winners and silencing voters. This also sets a precedent that Texas 1) bows down to others, 2) "don't mess with Texas" doesn't apply to our leaders, and 3) in the future when the pendulum inevitably swings the other way, this could happen again. Do something that matters - find a solution to prevent future deaths from flooding, ensure politicians aren't abusing the system (like having multiple homesteads...), support our veterans, improve mental health care access, fix infrastructure, update the power grid. There is a LONG list of things that could benefit us, stop playing political games. Do better.
