Message:

I'm a 5th generation Texan. You represent me and millions of other Texans who overwhelmingly agree that this redistricting should NOT happen. It is our right to elect people who represent us. It is NOT your right to try and silence those voices that may differ from your own. If you feel the need to try and steal districts you might not otherwise win, you need to take a look at your moral compass and reevaluate your life choices. You are not entitled to any seat in any house, neither is anyone in the national government. The Declaration of Independence very clearly says that we, the people, have the right to abolish a government that no longer protects our rights... voting is our right and this redistricting is an attempt to silence us. You're treading on already very thin ice.
