Message:

The redistricting in Texas is an absolute spit in the face you are the representatives of an entire state and all of its people you are here to do your best to make sure every citizen's voice is heard and properly represented. To have the gall and immaturity to redo districts so that only certain Texans are properly represented shows how unqualified many of you are for your job as representatives. And to focus on that word you are representatives you are to represent the voices of the people of Texas not act like false kings or gods and decide who's right and who's wrong. You are not kings you are not gods you are representatives you are not to make those decisions that is not what this country or state is supposed to stand for. And if you can't properly represent the people of this state then you are simply a pathetic, incompetent, and underqualified fool who likes to pretend to be a leader. Make the right decision and allow all voices to not just be heard but also represented.
