Message:

This issue deeply concerns me as a proud Texan. I love Texas and believe it has the potential to be a state that welcomes change, positivity, and life. I vote in every election for not only my needs and wants as a resident in Texas but also for many others. Sometimes I get discouraged when voting because of blatant voter discrimination and the amount of hoops I have to jump through to even be registered to vote. Redistricting Texas is not the answer to help the people who live in Texas. It only matters to few amount of people versus the majority of Texas. Do not make this mistake as Texas is already considered to be behind on what its potential can possibly be. This will certainly put us in a stagnant or declining direction. I love living here and being a proud Texan but I hate when people with ill intentions mess with this great state. I hope you consider your choices not to please your higher ups but for the people that make Texas what it is. Thank you for your time. Make the best choice.
