Texas Redistricting :

The redistricting proposal appears to be solely a political attempt to subvert citizen voting rights in this state and motivation appears to be one-sided and void of forward thinking for the future of this state, its citizens and future citizens. Our congressional district has been gerrymandered so that voter concerns and rights have been manipulated to ignore what people want and need to maintain a viable state, city, community . The future of this state is in jeopardy of losing valuable contributors to commerce, education, research and continued prosperity and development. We risk relinquishing this state to influences outside our Texas ways. Think again of our future and that of our community, families and children. We do not need or want knee-jerk allegiance to destructive ideas. This is certainly one.
