On Tuesday of next week, the 89th Regular Session of the Texas Legislature will convene down in Austin. I'M FIRED UP AND READY TO GO! YOU have continued to show support for me, and I will not let you down. I know there is only one star in the Senate office and that's YOU, the constituent. I, and my staff, each day are guided by this thought! I am ready to provide leadership on education, transportation, economic development, social justice, criminal justice, and a variety of other issues.

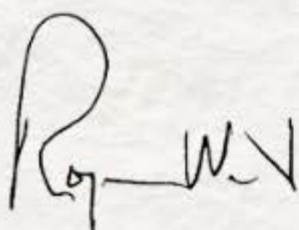

You know my top priorities are always close to my heart and the district: Affordable childcare, public education, higher education, reasonable property tax reduction, protecting Texas consumers, continuing to strengthen our economy, minority business participation, and helping to bring needed resources to SD23, and more.

You can follow what happens during session by following me on Facebook, Twitter, Linked In, and Instagram. I'm @SenRoyceWest on all those platforms.

You can also follow the bills, committees, and more at Texas Legislature Online, <https://capitol.texas.gov/>. You can set yourself up alerts to monitor the progress of bills in which you have an interest. Additionally, when committees start, you can follow along by looking for the Senate Committee video feeds to pop up on this page: <https://senate.texas.gov/av-live.php>

Lots of issues will be front and center this session: water, property tax reduction, increasing insurance prices, and more. You'll want to engage on these issues because they impact our everyday lives. Continuing my work to make Senate District 23 a better place to live, learn, play, and work.

Your Senator,

Royce West
