Senator Adam Hinojosa Helps Pass Texas Education Freedom Act (SB2)
SB2 Heads to Texas House of Representatives

Austin TX, - Senator Adam Hinojosa, representing Senate District 27, proudly announces the successful passage of Senate Bill 2 (SB2) out of the Texas Senate, marking the beginning of a transformative moment in Texas education. This landmark legislation will empower Texas families with the freedom to choose the educational path that best suits their children's needs.

SB2 establishes Education Savings Accounts (ESAs), funded by $1 billion allocated from the state's budget surplus, ensuring that no existing public school funds are affected. This initiative provides 100,000 students with the opportunity to select the educational environment that best aligns with their aspirations and learning styles.

"This is an important step in ensuring that all Texas families have the tools they need to choose the best educational environment for their children," said Senator Hinojosa. "I am proud to stand alongside my colleagues in passing this bill, and I look forward to working on additional legislation that will ease the concerns of our constituents regarding the funding of public schools and salaries for our teachers,"

The passage of SB2 from the Senate Floor furthers the process in this important legislation and is the largest school choice launch in American history, underscoring Texas's commitment to educational excellence and parental empowerment.
